

A library of the future: StartSpace

State Library Victoria is a place for sparking curiosity and creativity and for building new skills and connections. For early-stage business founders, the Library offers StartSpace. Enabled by the Christine Christian Foundation, StartSpace is a business-support service and member community that empowers early-stage founders to develop their ideas.

Anyone can start their own business. Your business idea could be as simple as providing a service, exploring a creative pursuit, investing in a digital-tech venture, managing a social-impact enterprise or becoming self-employed. Whatever the idea, StartSpace is a first port of call for founders. It offers access to a range of support, skills, knowledge, resources and networks. As we like to say, if you're not sure where to start, start at StartSpace.
